Outdoor Cooking - The “Leave No Trace” Way

Join us Saturday, September 10 and get ready for camping and a fall season full of outdoor fun! Enjoy cooking outdoors to make a lunch of box oven pizza, veggie shish kabob and pie-iron turtles. While cooking and enjoying the outdoors, learn four of the seven “Leave No Trace” principles: outdoor cooking methods, the use of fuel and foods that leave the least impact on our environment and recycling and managing cooking/food waste. Workshop instructor is Lis Christensson, manager of adult development in Girl Scouts for 18 years and a “Leave No Trace” Master Educator since 2004.

This family-friendly workshop, offered in partnership with Girl Scouts of Greater Chicago and Northwest Indiana, is open to adults and children age 6 and up. All children under 18 must be accompanied by a registered adult and each attendee must be registered individually.

NOTE: A required supply fee of $20/person will be collected at check-in. This fee covers supplies and the “Leave No Trace” lunch.

Saturday, September 10 1 Session
